Lifewire's(2019) review of this application from there website with their likes and dislikes for this application:

What We Like

- Caches and maps can be saved for offline use.
- You can log caches without an internet connection.
- A signature template lets you log caches easier and faster.
- Your own favorite GPS navigation app can be used to find the cache.
- There isn't a fee or monthly payment to use it.

What We Don't Like

- Doesn't support iOS.

In summary, there are not a lot of applications that cross platform android AND iOS devices, and even less that work for apple watch or android watch devices.

Even though geocaching has become very popular here as of late, there is not a lot of applications to choose from, the ones that are out there are not really free, or have a subscription base.
