My major obstacle this time, was unfortunately work. Being on call during a 'go live' for a new rollout, is not the most helpful when trying to finish your work assignment when it is due.

Another stumbling block I had during this time, was I had to completely rethink my process for how to do my Trello, and google drive. I was thinking in single person mode rather than a group mode as I should have been. Anyone on my team should have been able to take over my Trello and understand what needs to be done to continue the work.

The programming was not a hard obstacle to overcome, I did enjoy trying and researching new things. I have always enjoyed learning new things, not being held back on what I can do, and showcase the knowledge I have acquired on this assignment.

While I was late on these two last assignments, which I do apologize, I had no school time this week due to projects, and the hectic on call schedule they had me in. I understand, no excuse, but you can only do what you can do.
